

Village Of Glen Richey In Path Of Swirling Tornado

Three Houses Are Smashed To Kindling Wood, Others Wrenched From Foundations

ONE INJURED: $20,000 DAMAGE

With a hissing, shrieking, swirling noise, a small sized hurricane or whirlwind swept down over the side of the hill to the little peaceful village of Glen Richey last evening wrenching houses from their foundations, lifting roofs as one would lift a shingle, uprooting trees, and then as quickly disappeared across the country to devastate and destroy whatever might obstruct its path.

Three houses owned by the coal company were totally destroyed while at least three other company houses were badly twisted and will require repairs of no small extent. Two private owned homes were also in the wake of the whirlwind and were badly twisted and damaged. Traces of the tremendous force back of the wind are to be seen about many homes in Glen Richey and the man or woman who does not have some interesting experience to relate is indeed a rarity.

The swirling wind silently crept over the hill back of the row of houses and then with a hissing noise which grew to a roar in a few seconds, it descended upon the houses which trembled and shook upon their foundations while those who were in the maelstrom did not know whether to seek safety within the houses or brave the out-of-doors. Then as though gliding over its Hunnish trick the rolling, swelling mass of raging wind, ricocheted over the woods to the east of the hill and is reported to have fastened its eagle clutches on the roof of the barn on the J. B. Lytle farm, tore it loose from the timbers, and dashed it to the ground.

The wind came from the direction of Olanta and there are reports that its course can be traced through that neighborhood.

While nobody was injured at Glen Richey it would appear this happy outcome is the result of a chain of very fortunate circumstances. One of the worst demolished houses is the company house occupied by William Wilson and his family of a wife and four children, the youngest a babe of eight months. Luckily the mother and father had gone to a picnic at Sunset park near Carrolltown and the children were left in the good care of Grandmother Jones. The house is a total wreck and there is no doubt in the world but that the members of the family would have suffered serious injuries, perhaps worse, had they been in the house when the racing wind came. Two of the company houses destroyed were unoccupied. Other houses owned by the company are twisted and damaged to a varying degree.

The residence of Fay Thomson was the worst of the private owned properties damaged. It is badly twisted and the roof lays to one side of the house, torn off by the fury of the elements. This is another case where it paid to be away from home. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their small children had gone down to spend the evening with Mrs. Thompson's mother who lives a short distance away.

Edward Beech is also a loser by the storm. Mr. Beech lives in a private house. The roof was demolished and two shade trees uprooted in addition to other damages.

The unusual occurrence took place at eight o'clock in the evening as just about the time when the small boy put away his playthings and was settling down to a quiet evening. Men tired from their days work at the mines were getting ready to turn in for the early rising in the morning. It is small wonder that the residents of the quiet little town cannot forget the wind storm of the evening before Dollar Day. Very little rain fell and what did fall came after the fury of the storm was spent.

The estimated damage at Glen Richey will run close to $10,000. The houses torn up were all two story frame buildings.

One of the houses unroofed was occupied by J. C. Maines, formerly of Clearfield. His family were in the house when the storm hit them. The first gust blew all the windows out of one end of the house and plastered mud from the water line ditch, old tin cans and other junk up against the wall of the rooms.

Miss Alice Maines endeavored to close a window on the second floor and was almost blown from the house. The wind caught her and forced her thru the window and she was enabled to save herself from going clean out by seizing the shingles on the roof of the porch and was hanging more than half way out onto the porch roof when the blast was over.

One of the freaks of the storm also occurred at the Maines home. A section of lace curtain at least three feet long was forced through a crack in a window pane not over two inches in length and hardly wide enough to shove a sheet of writing paper thru.

The home of Mrs. Ralston was right in the path of the storm, but despite the fact that the two houses on either side of it were demolished, the Ralston home was only slightly

ANTHRACITE MEN ASK TREMENDOUS WAGE INCREASE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 22—What the anthracite miners did not put into their demands was not written in the possibilities of the day. The demands which were revealed when the scale committee reported to the tri-district committee here include a sixty per cent increase in wages, a six hour day, a closed shop and other trimmings.

CLOUDBURST NEAR UNIONTOWN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., August 22—One hundred thousand dollars damages was done in the Connellsville coke region early today by a cloudburst which flooded mines, swept away buildings and destroyed railroad tracks and communication lines. Several persons are reported missing at Herbert, several miles from here but details are lacking.

The Republic Lumber company of Herbert is a loser to the extent of $25,000. Their plant was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed. Water to the depth of five feet covered the area and the firemen were unable to get to the flames.

MACHINISTS TIE UP AKRON PLANTS VOTING STRIKE

AKRON, O., Aug. 22—Akron's great rubber plants and every other colossal industry in the city are in danger of immediate shutdown owing to the action of two thousand machinists who have voted to strike immediately. The men voted almost unanimously to lay down their tools and paralyzation of industry is certain to follow unless an adjustment is speedily made. Only the International Harvester Company is unaffected by the strike vote, that company having signed a compromise agreement with their machinists yesterday. The machinists demand a forty-four hour week and a dollar an hour pay which is equivalent to a twenty per cent increase. Should the strike continue until Monday at least 80,000 workers will be idle and a complete tie up of the rubber city will be the result.

DISLOYAL PERSON TO BE WATCHED BY THE LOYAL LEGION

Persons of doubtful loyalty and especially those whose disloyalty has been established who seek legislative or other public office will be vigorously opposed by the American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the Great War. This action is urged upon the entire membership of the Legion through 3,000 posts already organized, in a resolution adopted by the National Executive committee in session at National headquarters, 19 West 44th street, New York City.

The resolution was prepared by a committee composed of Bishop Chas. H. Brent, of Buffalo, N. Y., formerly senior chaplain of the American Expeditionary forces, Henry Leonard, of Colorado, and Dr. Richard Derby of New York. It reads as follows:

"Resolved: That the American Legion in accordance with its announced principles as expressed in the Preamble of its Constitution and in the resolutions adopted by it in caucus assembled, stands squarely against violation or threat of violation, of law and order, whether by individuals or aggregations of individuals; that it advocates—and urges upon its membership to advocate, the imposition of full penalties upon violators of the Espionage act that it is immutably opposed to, and urges its membership to oppose, the admission to the national legislative body, or to any other public office, of persons of doubtful loyalty, and more especially of those whose disloyalty has been judicially determined.

FORMER C. H. S. TEACHER HAPPILY MARRIED

Lieut. Samuel Titus Cramblet and Miss Anna Leah Simpson were united in marriage at 6 o'clock last evening at the First Baptist church Rev. Albert A. Waffle, D. D., vacation pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony Clyde B. Simpson, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Lieutenant Cramblet, while Mrs. Clyde B. Simpson was matron of honor for the bride.

After the ceremony an elaborate course dinner was served to the bridal party in the tea room of the Osborne House.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramblet left for an eastern honeymoon trip, and will return to make their home in Auburn, where Mr. Cramblet has accepted a position with the Columbian Rope Company—Auburn, N. Y., Journal.

DOLLAR DAY PAGE QUILTS JOSEPH OUT BANDIT HUNT BIG SUCCESS ITALY POST OF BUDAPEST IS STILL ON

Today was Dollar Day in Clearfield and it proved to be the greatest success of any merchandising feature ever attempted in Clearfield, and simply serves to demonstrate what judicious, expert advertising will accomplish.

Dollar Day in Clearfield is one of the many pet hobbies of The Progress advertising department and having our heart in the business we set ourselves to eclipse all former efforts. We leave it to our patrons and the patrons of Clearfield's up-to-date merchants as to the measure of the success achieved.

The weather was ideal and every store on the list of Dollar Day bargain givers was jammed and crammed with customers from the time the door opened in the morning until final taps sounded and tired clerks sought rest at 6 o'clock.

The patrons of our Clearfield stores have learned that Dollar Day is not a mere figure of speech but is a real dollar day, that is to say it is a dollar saver to the careful purchaser who is ever ready to come forth with the money when the opportunity and the goods are presented.

We wish to compliment our merchants upon the manner in which they handled their end of this year's successful Dollar Day. They, without exception, gave full value for every dollar expended and instead of making the occasion the medium for disposing of old stock gave their bargains in late style, up-to-date merchandise in every particular.

The Progress was called upon to put out the largest papers ever printed in our bustling little city by the demands for space from our advertisers. We printed a 16-page paper Wednesday and were forced to increase the size to 20 pages on Thursday in order to give our merchants space sufficient to acquaint prospective shoppers with what they had to sell. The huge success of the day is our reward for the extra effort.

FINE YOUNG MAN DIES

Edgar, the 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaiburn, died at his home at Coudley on Monday, August 18th, of tuberculosis. The deceased was a hard working young man and was well liked throughout the vicinity in which he lived. He had been employed by the N. Y. C. R. R. Co., up to one month previous to his death.

He is survived by his parents, six brothers and two sisters—Howard, of Hazleton; Harry, Dewey, Sandy, James and Sylvester, at home; Miss. Roxie Burkhardt, of Renova, and Katy at home.

MANY HOSPITAL APPROPRIATIONS ARE IN JEOPARDY

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 22—An attempt to prevent the payment of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 in appropriations to various hospitals and homes in the state was made today when Willis Collins, representing the Anti-Sectarian Appropriation Association, filed a bill in equity in the Dauphin County court against Chas. A. Snyder, Auditor General and Harmon M. Kephart, State Treasurer, and sixty-six hospitals and homes in the state. The bill claims that the sixty-six hospitals and institutions named are sectarian and that under the laws of Pennsylvania it is illegal to make appropriation to them. The bill seeks to restrain the state officials from payment of the appropriations made by the last legislature, infers that the governor's approval of the bills was illegal and seeks to enjoin the said institutions from accepting the money.

Deputy Attorney General Hargest will likely defend the commonwealth and because of the vast sums of money involved doubtless many of the bigger institutions will employ competent attorneys to defend their claims.

WESTOVER WILL ENTERTAIN COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

The annual convention of the Clearfield County Sabbath School Association will meet at Westover next Tuesday and Wednesday, August 26 and 27. The first session will begin at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the last session will be on Wednesday night. Address will be given by N. F. Johnson, of Williamsport, and Rev. E. C. Keboch, of Harrisburg. The chairman of the local committee on arrangements is Alex. Michaels, and Mrs. Austin Markle is chairman of the committee on entertainment. Each Sunday School in the county is entitled to two delegates. All ministers of the county, district presidents and district secretaries are considered as members of the convention and their presence there is very much desired. A cordial invitation is extended to all Sunday School workers to attend the convention.

U. S. ARMY AVIATORS WHO WERE RELEASED—Lieut. Harold George Peterson of Hutchinson, Minn., left and Lieut. Paul H. Davis, of Strathmore, Cal., right, who were captured by Mexican bandits, have been released upon the payment of $15,000, the ransom demanded.

BULLETIN, PARIS—Archduke Joseph is reported to have resigned as head of the Hungarian government and fled from Budapest. The world was surprised a few weeks ago to learn that a Hapsburg had gained control over the Hungarian nation following the brief rule of Premier Julius Preidell who overthrew the government set up by Bela Kun. The Archduke is charged with having set up a government which was not representative of the country and with an attempt to restore the monarchy altho Foreign Minister Lovasse in an interview with the United Press yesterday declared that the government of Joseph would not last a month. The Archduke never received recognition from the Allies although it was reported that an understanding was reached between them.

PITTSBURGH CARS WILL START ON MONDAY NON UNION

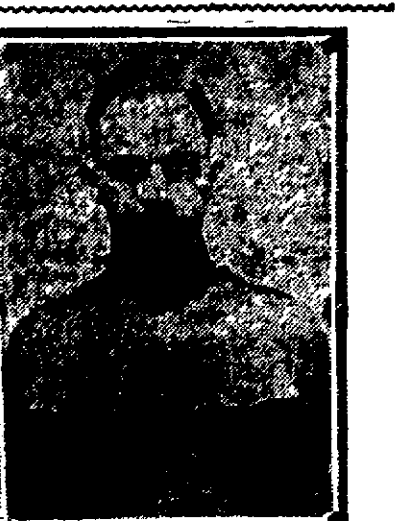

PITTSBURGH, August 22—Receivers for the Pittsburgh Street Railways company shortly before noon today filed a petition before Judge C. P. Orr of the Federal District court for permission to start to operate all street car lines on Monday. Their action is the result of the unfavorable vote polled by the striking car workers yesterday afternoon when the men voted to repudiate their agreement to abide by the award of the War Labor board which awarded the workers a six cent an hour increase. Judge Orr took the petition under consideration and will render his decision late today. The receivers have been in consultation with the mayor and the sheriff of Allegheny and are guaranteed adequate police protection.

ENTERTAIN AT HALF CENTURY MARK

Crystal Springs camp was the scene of a particularly happy occasion when four "old fellows," members of that aggregation of "outlaws," invited their friends to join them in celebrating the arrival at the half century milestone on life's tempestuous journey. These old fellows, all of whom are good fellows and the salt of the earth, are Dr. Peterman, and B. W. Hawes, of Cherrytree; T. R. Weimer, of DuBois, and Harry P. Dowler, of Clearfield. Each of these gentlemen saw the light of day just fifty years ago and decided this year to have a joint celebration of the momentous occasion.

They proved most admirable hosts and left nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of those fortunate enough to be present.

It is a well established fact that the more pearls are worn, particularly next to the skin, the more they increase in beauty and value. If unworn for any considerable length of time their lustre becomes dimmed.

MARFA, TEXAS, August 22—Four Mexican bandits have been killed by the Eighth Cavalry which is scouring the mountains of Northern Mexico for trace of the bandits who carried away Lieutenants Peterson and Davis and held them for ransom. News of the first serious clash with Mexicans was brought here today by Captain Matlock who made the trip by airplane. He reported that the men were in the saddle again today and that no nook or cranny in the mountains would be left unsearched. Every house in the path of the cavalrymen is being searched and every canon and ravine is being explored. The cavalrymen are determined to make a thorough cleanup of the bandit infested bad lands south of the Big Bend. Captain Matlock after making reports will again join his men using the aerial route. The battle with bandits took place in a mountain block house.

BULLETIN, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22—President Wilson and Secretary Lansing conferred for more than an hour this morning at the White House. It was intimated that the subject of their discussion was the protest lodged by the Mexican Ambassador against the crossing of the border by the Eighth Cavalry and the request for a withdrawal of the troops from Mexican soil.

TICKETS FOR SALE FOR RIDES ON THE FAIR AIRPLANE

As one of the attractions at the County Fair arrangements have been made for carrying passengers and those who wish to enjoy the thrill of flying in an airplane, may have this opportunity, confident in the assurance that an experienced army flier is at the controls. These flights will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of Fair week.

Captain Henry E. Stickney, has had over three years of actual battle experience besides several years of civilian flying before he entered the French service in the Lafayette Escadrille.

Passenger flying has become so popular of late, that flying schools have been established all over the country, where instruction in the operation of airplanes is given, and passenger flights over nearby towns are given at a reasonable sum.

The machine that Capt. Stickney uses is the Canadian Curtiss JN-4 known as the safest plane in the air. This type was used to train 95 per cent of the Canadian and American Air Forces, and was built for safety in training.

Tickets for airplane rides can be bought from Fred B. Reed, secretary.

PERSHING CABLE DESIGNATES UNIT TO STAY IN FRANCE

KNOX WANT U. S. TO BREAK AWAY FROM EUROPE

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Senator Philander Knox, of Pennsylvania today joined the ranks of those who believe the treaty of peace with Germany should be utterly rejected by the U. S.

The safety of the United States, in the opinion of the senator, makes it necessary that this nation should be out of the European situation altogether and have nothing to do with the engagements laid down by the treaty for the disposition of European and Asiatic people and territories.

Senator Knox announced this position at a luncheon served in his office in the capitol to which were invited seven other senators who are opposed to the League of Nations and to the entire treaty. Those who attended were: Senators Borah, Johnson, Fall, Moses, Brandegee, Poinsett and Reed.

At this conference it was said at least eight more senators can be counted on to reject the treaty and there is some reason to believe this number will be increased. It was stated that the sentiment of the people is veering so strongly against the whole treaty that it is only a matter of time that enough votes will be brought together to insure rejection of the treaty.

The figures as given at the conference were:
To vote against the treaty, even if amended 16; persons to vote against the treaty unless some reservations are made, not less than 35 nor more than 40.

The "13" superstition has been shattered so thoroughly that others may as well go along. Nobody, however credulous, will, in this enlightened day, seriously contend that the wing on the seventeen-year locust stands for "war."

NOBODY THOUGHT CLEARFIELD HAD SO MANY CROOKS

Jimmy DeHart's baseball team which was scheduled to represent Clearfield in a game with DuBois last evening started from New Bethlehem by automobile, but ran into a furious storm while half way here and were unable to complete their journey in time for the game.

Four or five hundred fans assembled at the park for the game but when the team failed to arrive Manager McGowan returned their money to his patrons. And thereby hangs a tale, which shows the innate honesty or lack of honesty among men when they have a chance, even at 50 cents.

The ticket takers tally showed a total gate of $196 for the ball game and when the last man had left the park Manager McGowan found he had been compelled to pay out $224.50 or just $28.50 more than was paid in.

A lot of fellows who jumped the fence lined up and secured 50 cents for being in while others got their fifty and lining up again marched past the window for a second haul.

The DuBois team was paid their full guarantee, which netted the management a loss of about $125 on the game.

DuBois will come to Clearfield Saturday afternoon and will meet a real Clearfield team at the driving park at 3:30 o'clock.

The local team will be recruited from the best of the Twilight League teams, and we have some fine ball players. Bowen and Lester, who have just returned home from a season with Jack Pershing's Big Leaguers, will be the battery for the home team and they will be supported by several other grenade throwers who also breezed through the Central Powers leagues in jig time.

These local stars will be assisted by Sol Robinson of Curwensville and several other fast semi-pros. In this neck of woods. It will be some game.

There are a number of influential men in Europe who have depended so long on the profession of arms that they can hardly be expected to welcome the idea of universal and permanent peace with great enthusiasm.

It is reported that the upkeep of an airplane is not much greater than that of an automobile, and certainly upkeep is more important to an airplane than an automobile.

Though civilization advances not enough has been done as yet to restrain the ravaging automobile from killing children.

A New Arrival

Thousands of homes are waiting to welcome the new white National MAZDA lamps—the most important development since the very first MAZDA lamp came to show the way to better light.

The new lamp is of high efficiency, gas-filled construction with a tipless bulb of white glass which conceals the filament and softens and diffuses the light. Made only in 50 watt size and obtainable five in the blue Convenience Carton for $3.25 or singly at 65 cents.

See the new lamps lighted—they are in our window now. Get these new lamps today for every room in your house.

damaged. Mrs. Raiston was sick in bed and was removed from the house following the storm. Two little children were with her and they were also unharmed.

Archie Johnson was passing along the street when the storm hit him and he was blown along for several hundred feet until he lodged against a fence and secured a stranglehold on a fence post.

Parts of the wrecked dwellings were scattered several hundred feet beyond the village in the adjoining woods, while wash tubs, linoleum and household goods generally littered the landscape for half a mile.

The Lytle farm was in the path of the tornado, some three quarters of a mile from Glen Richey. Several thousand dollars damage was wrought there. The roof was yanked off the farm. The fine orchard was practically ruined, scores of magnificent apple trees uprooted and smashed to the ground.

The electric power line of the Penn Public Service Company was blown down and crossed on the light and telephone wires and the element of danger from electrocution was added to the excitement following the passing of the tornado but fortunately the damage was repaired without further accident.

The trouble was caused by two funnel shaped clouds which appeared to swirl together on the hill just back of Glen Richey. These twin funnels swirled and rolled across a stretch of about one mile and a half in length and not over 200 yards wide. Trees, fences and corn fields in their path were leveled to the ground.

The home of Orvis Smith, located near the Joseph Borst farm a little more than a mile from Glen Richey, was directly in the path of the storm and was totally wiped off the map. Smith and his wife and a couple of young nephews were at the house. A terrific roar attracted Mr. Smith's attention and he stepped out on the porch to see what the trouble was. Just as he reached the outside the storm was upon him. The air was full of dust and debris while the crashing of nearby trees made a noise impossible to describe. He cried to his family to come out of the house and seizing a post attempted to hold on.

The blast struck the house and it was hurled bodily from its foundation and deposited more than one hundred feet away in a leveled pile of wreckage. Mrs. Smith had been unable to get out and as the cook stove and portion of the kitchen floor crashed into the cellar the woman was carried along. Red hot coals from the stove set fire to the floor and before Mrs. Smith could be taken from the ruins she was painfully burned about the neck and arm.

Smith was carried a couple of hundred feet and thrown on his head amidst the timbers of his wrecked home, but recovered in time to rescue his wife from the burning debris in the cellar.

A barn and automobile shed, both located near the house, were also caught up by the storm and strewn for several hundred yards about the farm.

Barns belonging to William Borst and George Brewer located short distances from the Smith place were also demolished.

A tub, wash boiler, the clothes basket and two automobile tires were picked up at the Smith farm and lodged in the woods in McLaughlin hollow nearly a half mile away.

The cloud appeared to revolve about the Smith house and apparently sucked everything up off the ground and twirled it about.

A pump in a well at the rear of the house with a 35-foot pipe attached was sucked from the well and was found seventy-five feet from where it had been located and not a joint of the pipe had been wrenched or broken. The well top or cover was found across the field from the house.

The storm seemed to spend its final fury on the flat about the Smith home, as no further damage was wrought in that region.

Mr. Smith's loss is a very heavy one and includes, in addition to his house, barn and garage, his household furniture, bedding and clothing. His automobile was also badly used up.

FRUIT HILL PICNIC THURSDAY, AUGUST 28TH

The famous Fruit Hill picnic, the biggest picnic in the upper end of the county, will be held Thursday, August 28th, instead of Wednesday 27th.

The management is arranging for lots of entertainment for the big crowd sure to be there. A merry-go-round will help some while the Irvon band will discourse sweetest music all day long.

Remember the date—Thursday, Aug. 28th.

COURT NOTES

Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are defendants in two actions brot in the Clearfield county courts this morning where in damages to the extent of $50,000 are asked.

These suits grow out of a fatal accident which occurred at the DuBois street crossing of the Pennsylvania in DuBois City on August 22, 1918. A car owned and driven by John Trumble, of near Pittsburgh, was struck by a train at this point and Trumble was seriously hurt, while Miss Julia Lawler received injuries which resulted in her death in a very short time.

John Lawler, father of Julia Lawler, is the plaintiff in the first suit and asks $25,000 damages for the killing of his daughter. Trumble recites that he was permanently injured in the accident and he asks $25,000 for his injuries. The suits were brought by Attorney Louis V. Barach, of Pittsburgh.

ALLPORT HAS A PRETTY WEDDING

A modest wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Milson, at Allport, when Miss Helen, one of their accomplished daughters, became the bride of Joseph Kirk, son of Mrs. Nettie Kirk, also of Allport.

The ceremony, beautiful and impressive, and according to the usage of the Methodist Episcopal church, was performed by Rev. J. E. Hawkins, of this city. It was witnessed by a goodly number of the immediate and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride, a most charming young lady, is a graduate of the West Chester State Normal School and also of the Williamsport Commercial College.

The groom is a graduate of State College, and a young man of whose sterling character too much cannot be said. He only recently returned from overseas, where he served for about a year and a half most faithfully as a member of Co. H, 22nd Engineers, receiving an honorable discharge.

Following the wedding the happy young couple departed for Red Oak, Iowa, where the groom is at present located as an architectural engineer.

In England the sender of a telegram can cancel it, if transmission has not begun, by paying a fine of a few cents.

Be Pretty! Turn Gray Hair Dark

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

KEEP THIS PART OF THE STATE FREE OF POTATO WART

The potato already struggles against heavy odds in the form of pests and diseases. Shall another trouble-maker be added to the list or shall the "preventative ounce" be applied? Uncle Sam's Federal Horticultural Board has pronounced the case a serious one caused by the war fungus which was imported some years ago. The little fungus parasite causing this disease, even though ever so small, can and does dictate; potatoes cannot form their normal tubers when interfered with by Chrysophyitis endobiotica—the terrible name of the wart producer.

The disease was discovered last September in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, where now the pest seems to be permanently established. It is possible—yes, highly probable—that the wart occurs elsewhere in Pennsylvania.

Evidence shows that wart was unquestionably introduced into this county from abroad during the heavy importations of potatoes which took place during 1912 and previous years. We have learned, for example, that one large firm in New York City imported nearly 1,000,000 bags of European potatoes in the spring of 1911. These were distributed all over the eastern half of the country. All this occurred before the embargo of 1912 became effective. It is impossible to trace every shipment but we know that scarcely a city east of the Mississippi river was overlooked. Thousands of these bags of potatoes were for eating purposes, but what became of every spud and every peeling is unanswerable. We can safely bet that the garbage received the peels and eventually, if they contained the wart fungus, the soil became contaminated. Then, too, some of these potatoes, although purchased for eating purposes, must have gone into the garden as seed. What did you do with yours?

It so happens that farmers did not buy any of this stock, so they are thus far exempted, we believe, but one cannot safely assume that war has not already crept from your garden to the wonderful potato fields nearby.

The disease is easily recognized at digging time, rough, spongy outgrowths occurring, especially at the eyes. These warts are whitish or light brown at first but become dark and decayed with age. The wart outgrowths vary in size, often as large as a black walnut. The potato vines do not show the effect or presence of the disease. Very few if any potatoes are developed by badly diseased plants.

The Federal Board of Horticulture through the Plant Disease Survey at Washington, D. C., are co-operating with the Pennsylvania State College and a number of agencies and individuals throughout the state in a concerted effort to discover whether wart occurs elsewhere than in Luzerne county. Pennsylvania is most important in this work and a highly organized campaign is now under way to determine whether wart exists in other counties of the state. All plant pathologists and botanists are on the watch for this disease. Every agency possible will be enlisted to help fight the potato disease. At digging time gardens in certain regions will be searched for wart, but obviously not all gardens in any one city, much less all cities, can be inspected. Watch your potatoes at digging. Report or send suspicious specimens to the Plant Pathologist, State College, Pennsylvania. Information concerning the disease and bulletins on the subject can be had by addressing the Plant Pathology Department at State College, Pennsylvania.

STEWART'S DRUG STORE
The Big Ten StoreCOLLEGE OF MUSIC
OPEN SEPT. FIRST
WITH NEW FEATURES

The Susquehanna College of Music will open the 1919-20 season under direction of Prof. H. Clark Thayer on September 1st with the same faculty that had such a successful year which closed in June.

Without doubt the Susquehanna College of Music is the leading school of its kind in the central part of the state and the ever growing circle of graduates and students is full attestation of the standing of the school in musical circles.

The faculty, which will be the same as last year, is composed of true artists in every sense of the word. The different branches are ably taken care of each in its own department. Among the branches taught are vocal and instrumental music, elocution, musical theory and history.

This year there is a new feature added to the vocal department in the shape of Phonographic demonstrations of tone work and tone placing. The records are made and approved by the leading teachers of the world and will bring to the vocal students of the Susquehanna College of Music examples of the sort of tone placing and tone making that has placed these artists in the fore front of the musical world.

The various studios are being re-finished and the entire building will present a fine appearance when the opening day is here. There is also a new piano added to the violin studio which will allow the pupil to harmonize the instrument with accompaniments.

The books of the school will open August 25th and it is the advice of the management that students who desire to pick out the time for their lessons should register at once as from inquiries already received there will be a full registration. Adv.

Keep Uric Acid
Out Of JointTells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat
Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double duty; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and "circulating" through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 24

JESUS ANSWERING THE LAWYER.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:25-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—As we have therefore
opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.—Gal. 6:10.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Gal. 6:2, 9,
10; James 2:14-16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Showing kindness to
others.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping the needy.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Our responsibility
for the welfare of others.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The
Christian ideal of brotherhood.

The subject chosen by the lesson committee for today, based upon this text, is "Social Responsibility." When we consider the real meaning of the text it is hard to understand why the committee chose such a subject. However, let us with open minds and hearts study the text, for it is of great importance. Christ's object was to lead the lawyer (theological professor) to understand the need of God.

1. Eternal Life Through Obedience to the Law (vv. 25-28).
The lawyer's question (v. 25). The "lawyer" was one who expounded the Mosaic law. The nearest position corresponding thereto in modern life is the theological professor. His question was not an effort to ascertain the truth, but to entrap Jesus. He not only had a wrong motive, but a defective theology. He thought that eternal life could be secured by doing—obedience. He did not know that "doing" meant keeping the law in its minutest parts, which is an utter impossibility for fallen men; that failure to measure up to the least demand of the law exposed him to the curse of God (Gal. 3:10).

2. The lawyer answering his own question (v. 27). Christ's counter-question sent him to the law, of which he gave a fine summary. Supreme love to God and love to one's neighbor as to ourselves is the whole of man's duty. It is true as Jesus said: "This do and thou shalt live" (v. 28). But no one has ever kept the law. "There is none righteous, no one not" (Rom. 3:10). "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). "By the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight" (Rom. 3:20). "By the law is the knowledge of sin" (Rom. 3:20).

11. Being a Neighbor (vv. 29-37).
1. The lawyer's question (v. 29). He evidently knew the force of Christ's argument, for he sought to justify himself by asking, "Who is my neighbor?" This inquiry betrays his lack of that love which is the fulfillment of the law (Rom. 13:10). Love never inquires as to whom to love, but "Where is some one who needs my love?" Christ convicted him on his own grounds.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 30-37). He answered by a parable in which a certain man fell among thieves on his way to Jericho and was severely wounded. While in this helpless condition a priest passed by, not even coming near; also a Levite, who was interested enough to look on him, but not enough to help him. Finally a Samaritan came where the wounded man was and, moved by compassion for him, bound up his wounds and brought him on his own beast to the inn, where he was cared for at the Samaritan's expense. In reply to Jesus' question the lawyer declared that the Samaritan was neighbor to the unfortunate man; and Jesus commanded him to go and do likewise (v. 37). By this Jesus showed him that the important question is not, "Who is my neighbor?" but "Whose neighbor am I?" Jesus can seeking those to whom he could be neighbor. Those who have his Spirit will be trying to be neighbors instead of hunting neighbors.

Those who love God supremely will, as they pass along the highways of life, minister to the broken and wounded souls in the spirit of a neighbor's love, regardless of nationality, religion, character or color. May we hear the voice of Jesus saying, "Go and do thou likewise."

The Erring Soul.

"The little I have seen in the world teaches me to look upon the errors of others in sorrow, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it has passed through, the brief pulsations of joy, the feverish inquietude of hope and fear, the pressure of want, the desertion of friends, I would fain leave the erring soul of my fellow man from whose hand it came.—Longfellow.

Serving God.

To do good and to serve God are materially the same, and the service of God is the imitation of him.—Benjamin Whichcote.

Daily Thought.

There are no crown wearers in heaven who were not cross bearers here below.—Spurgeon.

Work Cheerfully.

Do your work cheerfully, heartily and be ever prepared for the place farther up.—E. H. Naylor.

Certain landholders in Scotland are bound, under monetary penalties, to marry at the King's command.

BILLBOARDS HIT BY DECISION

By Ruling of Supreme Court They
May Be Barred From Residence Districts.

The power granted cities by the United States Supreme court to eliminate billboards altogether in the residential districts is hailed with approbation by the American Civic association in a bulletin which it devotes to the billboard evil. The decision which protects the millions of dollars invested in homes and civic improvements was rendered in the case of the Cusack company against Chicago.

The Civic association, in the strongest language, urges communities to protect themselves from the intrusions of billboards in the residence districts. It calls the billboards "eyesores," which depreciate property values.

Los Angeles already has taken advantage of the power given it by the Supreme court to bar billboards from all parts of the city except business districts. Whether a block is in a business district is determined by the written consent of the owners of 66 per cent of the property in the block and the two adjoining blocks.

So it will take the permission of the owners of two-thirds of the frontage in three blocks to erect billboards along one block.

The billboards may be banished at any time upon the request of the owners of 33 per cent of the frontage.—Kansas City Star.

Appropriate Gardens.

Much that has been said in regard to the house applies equally well to the garden. Let its style be determined by locality. Formal gardens with neat hedges and direct paths are more and more appropriate as we approach the conventionalities of city life. Leave the picturesque gardens to spacious, picturesque surroundings. Winding paths and other features of the natural garden require to be close to nature. An orchard is both more useful and more beautiful in the proximity of the small house that is not far from town. The cost of maintenance is least in the orchard garden with paved paths, flowering shrubs, and borders of perennials.

Improve the Grounds.

Unfortunately, indeed, is the family which has no trees or shrubbery about the house and which has permitted this much of 1919 to go by without planting anything. Piling up of money, land or stock for some one else to use at the expense of some of the comforts and pleasures easily obtained for a home is not only poor judgment, but poor business policy.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Village Of Glen Richey In Path Of Swirling Tornado

Three Houses Are Smashed To Kindling Wood, Others Wrenched From Foundations

ONE INJURED: $20,000 DAMAGE

With a hissing, shrieking, swirling noise, a small sized hurricane or whirlwind swept down over the side of the hill to the little peaceful village of Glen Richey last evening wrenching houses from their foundations, lifting roofs as one would lift a shingle, uprooting trees, and then as quickly disappeared across the country to devastate and destroy whatever might obstruct its path.

Three houses owned by the coal company were totally destroyed while at least three other company houses were badly twisted and will require repairs of no small extent. Two private owned homes were also in the wake of the whirlwind and were badly twisted and damaged. Traces of the tremendous force back of the wind are to be seen about many homes in Glen Richey and the man or woman who does not have some interesting experience to relate is indeed a rarity.

The swirling wind silently crept over the hill back of the row of houses and then with a hissing noise which grew to a roar in a few seconds, it descended upon the houses which trembled and shook upon their foundations while those who were in the maelstrom did not know whether to seek safety within the houses or brave the out-of-doors. Then as though gliding over its Hunnish trick the rolling, swelling mass of raging wind, ricocheted over the woods to the east of the hill and is reported to have fastened its eagle clutches on the roof of the barn on the J. B. Lytle farm, tore it loose from the timbers, and dashed it to the ground.

The wind came from the direction of Olanta and there are reports that its course can be traced through that neighborhood.

While nobody was injured at Glen Richey it would appear this happy outcome is the result of a chain of very fortunate circumstances. One of the worst demolished houses is the company house occupied by William Wilson and his family of a wife and four children, the youngest a babe of eight months. Luckily the mother and father had gone to a picnic at Sunset park near Carrolltown and the children were left in the good care of Grandmother Jones. The house is a total wreck and there is no doubt in the world but that the members of the family would have suffered serious injuries, perhaps worse, had they been in the house when the racing wind came. Two of the company houses destroyed were unoccupied. Other houses owned by the company are twisted and damaged to a varying degree.

The residence of Fay Thomson was the worst of the private owned properties damaged. It is badly twisted and the roof lays to one side of the house, torn off by the fury of the elements. This is another case where it paid to be away from home. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their small children had gone down to spend the evening with Mrs. Thompson's mother who lives a short distance away.

Edward Beech is also a loser by the storm. Mr. Beech lives in a private house. The roof was demolished and two shade trees uprooted in addition to other damages.

The unusual occurrence took place at eight o'clock in the evening as just about the time when the small boy put away his playthings and was settling down to a quiet evening. Men tired from their days work at the mines were getting ready to turn in for the early rising in the morning. It is small wonder that the residents of the quiet little town cannot forget the wind storm of the evening before Dollar Day. Very little rain fell and what did fall came after the fury of the storm was spent.

The estimated damage at Glen Richey will run close to $10,000. The houses torn up were all two story frame buildings.

One of the houses unroofed was occupied by J. C. Maines, formerly of Clearfield. His family were in the house when the storm hit them. The first gust blew all the windows out of one end of the house and plastered mud from the water line ditch, old tin cans and other junk up against the wall of the rooms.

Miss Alice Maines endeavored to close a window on the second floor and was almost blown from the house. The wind caught her and forced her thru the window and she was enabled to save herself from going clean out by seizing the shingles on the roof of the porch and was hanging more than half way out onto the porch roof when the blast was over.

One of the freaks of the storm also occurred at the Maines home. A section of lace curtain at least three feet long was forced through a crack in a window pane not over two inches in length and hardly wide enough to shove a sheet of writing paper thru.

The home of Mrs. Ralston was right in the path of the storm, but despite the fact that the two houses on either side of it were demolished, the Ralston home was only slightly

ANTHRACITE MEN ASK TREMENDOUS WAGE INCREASE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 22—What the anthracite miners did not put into their demands was not written in the possibilities of the day. The demands which were revealed when the scale committee reported to the tri-district committee here include a sixty per cent increase in wages, a six hour day, a closed shop and other trimmings.

CLOUDBURST NEAR UNIONTOWN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., August 22—One hundred thousand dollars damages was done in the Connellsville coke region early today by a cloudburst which flooded mines, swept away buildings and destroyed railroad tracks and communication lines. Several persons are reported missing at Herbert, several miles from here but details are lacking.

The Republic Lumber company of Herbert is a loser to the extent of $25,000. Their plant was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed. Water to the depth of five feet covered the area and the firemen were unable to get to the flames.

MACHINISTS TIE UP AKRON PLANTS VOTING STRIKE

AKRON, O., Aug. 22—Akron's great rubber plants and every other colossal industry in the city are in danger of immediate shutdown owing to the action of two thousand machinists who have voted to strike immediately. The men voted almost unanimously to lay down their tools and paralyzation of industry is certain to follow unless an adjustment is speedily made. Only the International Harvester Company is unaffected by the strike vote, that company having signed a compromise agreement with their machinists yesterday. The machinists demand a forty-four hour week and a dollar an hour pay which is equivalent to a twenty per cent increase. Should the strike continue undisturbed at least 80,000 workers will be idle and a complete tie up of the rubber city will be the result.

DISLOYAL PERSON TO BE WATCHED BY THE LOYAL LEGION

Persons of doubtful loyalty and especially those whose disloyalty has been established who seek legislative or other public office will be vigorously opposed by the American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the Great War. This action is urged upon the entire membership of the Legion through 3,000 posts already organized, in a resolution adopted by the National Executive committee in session at National headquarters, 19 West 44th street, New York City.

The resolution was prepared by a committee composed of Bishop Chas. H. Brent, of Buffalo, N. Y., formerly senior chaplain of the American Expeditionary forces, Henry Leonard, of Colorado, and Dr. Richard Derby of New York. It reads as follows:

"Resolved: That the American Legion in accordance with its announced principles as expressed in the Preamble of its Constitution and in the resolutions adopted by it in caucus assembled, stands squarely against violation or threat of violation, of law and order, whether by individuals or aggregations of individuals; that it advocates—and urges upon its membership to advocate, the imposition of full penalties upon violators of the Espionage act that it is immutably opposed to, and urges its membership to oppose, the admission to the national legislative body, or to any other public office, of persons of doubtful loyalty, and more especially of those whose disloyalty has been judicially determined.

FORMER C. H. S. TEACHER HAPPILY MARRIED

Lieut. Samuel Titus Cramblet and Miss Anna Leah Simpson were united in marriage at 6 o'clock last evening at the First Baptist church. Rev. Albert A. Waffle, D. D., vacation pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony. Clyde B. Simpson, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Lieutenant Cramblet, while Mrs. Clyde B. Simpson was matron of honor for the bride.

After the ceremony an elaborate course dinner was served to the bridal party in the tea room of the Osborne House.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramblet left for an eastern honeymoon trip, and will return to make their home in Auburn, where Mr. Cramblet has accepted a position with the Columbian Rope Company—Auburn, N. Y., Journal.

DOLLAR DAY PAGE QUILTS JOSEPH OUT BANDIT HUNT BIG SUCCESS ITALY POST OF BUDAPEST IS STILL ON

Today was Dollar Day in Clearfield and it proved to be the greatest success of any merchandising feature ever attempted in Clearfield, and simply serves to demonstrate what judicious, expert advertising will accomplish.

Dollar Day in Clearfield is one of the many pet hobbies of The Progress advertising department and having our heart in the business we set ourselves to eclipse all former efforts. We leave it to our patrons and the patrons of Clearfield's up-to-date merchants as to the measure of the success achieved.

The weather was ideal and every store on the list of Dollar Day bargain givers was jammed and crammed with customers from the time the door opened in the morning until final taps sounded and tired clerks sought rest at 6 o'clock.

The patrons of our Clearfield stores have learned that Dollar Day is not a mere figure of speech but is a real dollar day, that is to say it is a dollar saver to the careful purchaser who is ever ready to come forth with the money when the opportunity and the goods are presented.

We wish to compliment our merchants upon the manner in which they handled their end of this year's successful Dollar Day. They, without exception, gave full value for every dollar expended and instead of making the occasion the medium for disposing of old stock gave their bargains in late style, up-to-date merchandise in every particular.

The Progress was called upon to put out the largest papers ever printed in our bustling little city by the demands for space from our advertisers. We printed a 16-page paper Wednesday and were forced to increase the size to 20 pages on Thursday in order to give our merchants space sufficient to acquaint prospective shoppers with what they had to sell. The huge success of the day is our reward for the extra effort.

FINE YOUNG MAN DIES

Edgar, the 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaiburn, died at his home at Coudley on Monday, August 18th, of tuberculosis. The deceased was a hard working young man and was well liked throughout the vicinity in which he lived. He had been employed by the N. Y. C. R. R. Co., up to one month previous to his death. He is survived by his parents, six brothers and two sisters—Howard, of Hazleton; Harry, Dewey, Sandy, James and Sylvester, at home; Miss. Roxie Burkhardt, of Renova, and Katy at home.

MANY HOSPITAL APPROPRIATIONS ARE IN JEOPARDY

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 22—An attempt to prevent the payment of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 in appropriations to various hospitals and homes in the state was made today when Willis Collins, representing the Anti-Sectarian Appropriation Association, filed a bill in equity in the Dauphin County court against Chas. A. Snyder, Auditor General and Harmon M. Kephart, State Treasurer, and sixty-six hospitals and homes in the state. The bill claims that the sixty-six hospitals and institutions named are sectarian and that under the laws of Pennsylvania it is illegal to make appropriation to them. The bill seeks to restrain the state officials from payment of the appropriations made by the last legislature, infers that the governor's approval of the bills was illegal and seeks to enjoin the said institutions from accepting the money.

Deputy Attorney General Hargest will likely defend the commonwealth and because of the vast sums of money involved doubtless many of the bigger institutions will employ competent attorneys to defend their claims.

WESTOVER WILL ENTERTAIN COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

The annual convention of the Clearfield County Sabbath School Association will meet at Westover next Tuesday and Wednesday, August 26 and 27. The first session will begin at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the last session will be on Wednesday night. Address will be given by N. F. Johnson, of Williamsport, and Rev. E. C. Keboch, of Harrisburg. The chairman of the local committee on arrangements is Alex. Michaels, and Mrs. Austin Markle is chairman of the committee on entertainment. Each Sunday School in the county is entitled to two delegates. All ministers of the county, district presidents and district secretaries are considered as members of the convention and their presence there is very much desired. A cordial invitation is extended to all Sunday School workers to attend the convention.

BULLETIN, PARIS—Archduke Joseph is reported to have resigned as head of the Hungarian government and fled from Budapest. The world was surprised a few weeks ago to learn that a Hapsburg had gained control over the Hungarian nation following the brief rule of Premier Julius Preidell who overthrew the government set up by Bela Kun. The Archduke is charged with having set up a government which was not representative of the country and with an attempt to restore the monarchy altho Foreign Minister Lovasse in an interview with the United Press yesterday declared that the government of Joseph would not last a month. The Archduke never received recognition from the Allies although it was reported that an understanding was reached between them.

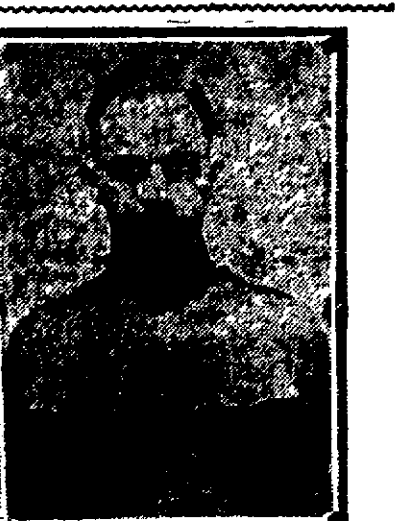

PITTSBURGH CARS WILL START ON MONDAY NON UNION

PITTSBURGH, August 22—Receivers for the Pittsburgh Street Railways company shortly before noon today filed a petition before Judge C. P. Orr of the Federal District court for permission to start to operate all street car lines on Monday. Their action is the result of the unfavorable vote polled by the striking car workers yesterday afternoon when the men voted to repudiate their agreement to abide by the award of the War Labor board which awarded the workers a six cent an hour increase. Judge Orr took the petition under consideration and will render his decision late today. The receivers have been in consultation with the mayor and the sheriff of Allegheny and are guaranteed adequate police protection.

ENTERTAIN AT HALF CENTURY MARK

Crystal Springs camp was the scene of a particularly happy occasion when four "old fellows," members of that aggregation of "outlaws," invited their friends to join them in celebrating the arrival at the half century milestone on life's tempestuous journey. These old fellows, all of whom are good fellows and the salt of the earth, are Dr. Peterman, and B. W. Hawes, of Cherrytree; T. R. Weimer, of DuBois, and Harry P. Dowler, of Clearfield. Each of these gentlemen saw the light of day just fifty years ago and decided this year to have a joint celebration of the momentous occasion. They proved most admirable hosts and left nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of those fortunate enough to be present.

It is a well established fact that the more pearls are worn, particularly next to the skin, the more they increase in beauty and value. If unworn for any considerable length of time their lustre becomes dimmed.

U. S. ARMY AVIATORS WHO WERE RELEASED—Lieut. Harold George Peterson of Hutchinson, Minn., left and Lieut. Paul H. Davis, of Strathmore, Cal., right, who were captured by Mexican bandits, have been released upon the payment of $15,000, the ransom demanded.

MARFA, TEXAS, August 22—Four Mexican bandits have been killed by the Eighth Cavalry which is scouring the mountains of Northern Mexico for trace of the bandits who carried away Lieutenants Peterson and Davis and held them for ransom. News of the first serious clash with Mexicans was brought here today by Captain Matlock who made the trip by airplane. He reported that the men were in the saddle again today and that no nook or cranny in the mountains would be left unsearched. Every house in the path of the cavalrymen is being searched and every canon and ravine is being explored. The cavalrymen are determined to make a thorough cleanup of the bandit infested bad lands south of the Big Bend. Captain Matlock after making reports will again join his men using the aerial route. The battle with bandits took place in a mountain block house.

BULLETIN, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22—President Wilson and Secretary Lansing conferred for more than an hour this morning at the White House. It was intimated that the subject of their discussion was the protest lodged by the Mexican Ambassador against the crossing of the border by the Eighth Cavalry and the request for a withdrawal of the troops from Mexican soil.

TICKETS FOR SALE FOR RIDES ON THE FAIR AIRPLANE

As one of the attractions at the County Fair arrangements have been made for carrying passengers and those who wish to enjoy the thrill of flying in an airplane, may have this opportunity, confident in the assurance that an experienced army flier is at the controls. These flights will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of Fair week.

Captain Henry E. Stickney, has had over three years of actual battle experience besides several years of civilian flying before he entered the French service in the Lafayette Escadrille.

Passenger flying has become so popular of late, that flying schools have been established all over the country, where instruction in the operation of airplanes is given, and passenger flights over nearby towns are given at a reasonable sum.

The machine that Capt. Stickney uses is the Canadian Curtiss JN-3 known as the safest plane in the air. This type was used to train 95 per cent of the Canadian and American Air Forces, and was built for safety in training.

Tickets for airplane rides can be bought from Fred B. Reed, secretary.

PERSHING CABLE DESIGNATES UNIT TO STAY IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22—General Pershing cabled to the war department a list of the units which will make up the American army in Europe after September 30th. They are:

8th Infantry
7th Machine Gun Battalion
1st Supply Train
2nd Battalion of 6th F. Art.
35th Field Signal Battalion
1st Mob. Ord. Rep. Shop Co.
1st English Field Hospital
13th Ambulance
Ambulance Hospital 36
Emergency men in the units will be returned as soon as recruited men from the states can be sent to take their places.

KNOX WANTS U. S. TO BREAK AWAY FROM EUROPE

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Senator Philander Knox, of Pennsylvania today joined the ranks of those who believe the treaty of peace with Germany should be utterly rejected by the U. S.

The safety of the United States, in the opinion of the senator, makes it necessary that this nation should be out of the European situation altogether and have nothing to do with the engagements laid down by the treaty for the disposition of European and Asiatic people and territories.

Senator Knox announced this position at a luncheon served in his office in the capitol to which were invited seven other senators who are opposed to the League of Nations and to the entire treaty. Those who attended were: Senators Borah, Johnson, Fall, Moses, Brandegee, Poinsett and Reed.

At this conference it was said at least eight more senators can be counted on to reject the treaty and there is some reason to believe this number will be increased. It was stated that the sentiment of the people is veering so strongly against the whole treaty that it is only a matter of time that enough votes will be brought together to insure rejection of the treaty.

The figures as given at the conference were:
To vote against the treaty, even if amended 16; persons to vote against the treaty unless some reservations are made, not less than 35 nor more than 40.

The "13" superstition has been shattered so thoroughly that others may as well go along. Nobody, however credulous, will, in this enlightened day, seriously contend that the wing on the seventeen-year locust stands for "war."

Parents should impress upon their children not to fondle strange dogs and not to tease any. Many attacks of dogs upon children are provoked, and the latter should be taught not to bring this danger upon themselves.

A safe and sure Fourth of July will not prevent the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Monroe doctrine from being mentioned frequently this summer and with great enthusiasm.

Stock exchange seats are now up to $85,000 apiece. The record price is $95,000. If anybody thinks speculation is permanently checked in the United States he is gravely mistaken.

A French chaplain says that France has 700,000 girls who will never get a chance to marry. Are we bringing our troops home too soon?

NOBODY THOUGHT CLEARFIELD HAD SO MANY CROOKS

Jimmy DeHart's baseball team which was scheduled to represent Clearfield in a game with DuBois last evening started from New Bethlehem by automobile, but ran into a furious storm while half way here and were unable to complete their journey in time for the game.

Four or five hundred fans assembled at the park for the game but when the team failed to arrive Manager McGowan returned their money to his patrons. And thereby hangs a tale, which shows the innate honesty or lack of honesty among men when they have a chance, even at 50 cents.

The ticket takers tally showed a total gate of $196 for the ball game and when the last man had left the park Manager McGowan found he had been compelled to pay out $224.50 or just $28.50 more than was paid in.

A lot of fellows who jumped the fence lined up and secured 50 cents for being in while others got their fifty and lining up again marched past the window for a second haul.

The DuBois team was paid their full guarantee, which netted the management a loss of about $125 on the game.

DuBois will come to Clearfield Saturday afternoon and will meet a real Clearfield team at the driving park at 3:30 o'clock. The local team will be recruited from the best of the Twilight League teams, and we have some fine ball players. Bowen and Lester, who have just returned home from a season with Jack Pershing's Big Leaguers, will be the battery for the home team and they will be supported by several other grenade throwers who also breezed through the Central Powers league in jig time.

These local stars will be assisted by Sol Robinson of Curwensville and several other fast semi-pros. In this neck of woods. It will be some game.

There are a number of influential men in Europe who have depended so long on the profession of arms that they can hardly be expected to welcome the idea of universal and permanent peace with great enthusiasm.

It is reported that the upkeep of an airplane is not much greater than that of an automobile, and certainly upkeep is more important to an airplane than an automobile.

Though civilization advances not enough has been done as yet to restrain the ravaging automobile from killing children.

That luxury tax alarms nearly all consumers, for they are convinced that in these days everything is a luxury.

damaged. Mrs. Raiston was sick in bed and was removed from the house following the storm. Two little children were with her and they were also unharmed.

Archie Johnson was passing along the street when the storm hit him and he was blown along for several hundred feet until he lodged against a fence and secured a stranglehold on a fence post.

Parts of the wrecked dwellings were scattered several hundred feet beyond the village in the adjoining woods, while wash tubs, linoleum and household goods generally littered the landscape for half a mile.

The Lytle farm was in the path of the tornado, some three quarters of a mile from Glen Richey. Several thousand dollars damage was wrought there. The roof was yanked off the farm. The fine orchard was practically ruined, scores of magnificent apple trees uprooted and smashed to the ground.

The electric power line of the Penn. Public Service Company was blown down and crossed on the light and telephone wires and the element of danger from electrocution was added to the excitement following the passing of the tornado but fortunately the damage was repaired without further accident.

The trouble was caused by two funnel shaped clouds which appeared to swirl together on the hill just back of Glen Richey. These twin funnels swirled and rolled across a stretch of about one mile and a half in length and not over 200 yards wide. Trees, fences and corn fields in their path were leveled to the ground.

The home of Orvis Smith, located near the Joseph Borst farm a little more than a mile from Glen Richey, was directly in the path of the storm and was totally wiped off the map. Smith and his wife and a couple of young nephews were at the house. A terrific roar attracted Mr. Smith's attention and he stepped out on the porch to see what the trouble was. Just as he reached the outside the storm was upon him. The air was full of dust and debris while the crashing of nearby trees made a noise impossible to describe. He cried to his family to come out of the house and seizing a post attempted to hold on.

The blast struck the house and it was hurled bodily from its foundation and deposited more than one hundred feet away in a leveled pile of wreckage. Mrs. Smith had been unable to get out and as the cook stove and portion of the kitchen floor crashed into the cellar the woman was carried along. Red hot coals from the stove set fire to the floor and before Mrs. Smith could be taken from the ruins she was painfully burned about the neck and arm.

Smith was carried a couple of hundred feet and thrown on his head amidst the timbers of his wrecked home, but recovered in time to rescue his wife from the burning debris in the cellar.

A barn and automobile shed, both located near the house, were also caught up by the storm and strewn for several hundred yards about the farm.

Barns belonging to William Borst and George Brewer located short distances from the Smith place were also demolished.

A tub, wash boiler, the clothes basket and two automobile tires were picked up at the Smith farm and lodged in the woods in McLaughlin hollow nearly a half mile away.

The cloud appeared to revolve about the Smith house and apparently sucked everything up off the ground and twirled it about.

A pump in a well at the rear of the house with a 35-foot pipe attached was sucked from the well and was found seventy-five feet from where it had been located and not a joint of the pipe had been wrenched or broken. The well top or cover was found across the field from the house.

The storm seemed to spend its final fury on the flat about the Smith home, as no further damage was wrought in that region.

Mr. Smith's loss is a very heavy one and includes, in addition to his house, barn and garage, his household furniture, bedding and clothing. His automobile was also badly used up.

FRUIT HILL PICNIC THURSDAY, AUGUST 28TH

The famous Fruit Hill picnic, the biggest picnic in the upper end of the county, will be held Thursday, August 28th, instead of Wednesday 27th.

The management is arranging for lots of entertainment for the big crowd sure to be there. A merry-go-round will help some while the Irvonia band will discourse sweetest music all day long.

Remember the date—Thursday, Aug. 28th.

COURT NOTES

Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are defendants in two actions brot in the Clearfield county courts this morning where in damages to the extent of $50,000 are asked.

These suits grow out of a fatal accident which occurred at the DuBois street crossing of the Pennsylvania in DuBois City on August 22, 1918. A car owned and driven by John Trumble, of near Pittsburgh, was struck by a train at this point and Trumble was seriously hurt, while Miss Julia Lawler received injuries which resulted in her death in a very short time.

John Lawler, father of Julia Lawler, is the plaintiff in the first suit and asks $25,000 damages for the killing of his daughter. Trumble recites that he was permanently injured in the accident and he asks $25,000 for his injuries. The suits were brought by Attorney Louis V. Barach, of Pittsburgh.

ALLPORT HAS A PRETTY WEDDING

A modest wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Milson, at Allport, when Miss Helen, one of their accomplished daughters, became the bride of Joseph Kirk, son of Mrs. Nettie Kirk, also of Allport.

The ceremony, beautiful and impressive, and according to the usage of the Methodist Episcopal church, was performed by Rev. J. E. Hawkins, of this city. It was witnessed by a goodly number of the immediate and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride, a most charming young lady, is a graduate of the West Chester State Normal School and also of the Williamsport Commercial College.

The groom is a graduate of State College, and a young man of whose sterling character too much cannot be said. He only recently returned from overseas, where he served for about a year and a half most faithfully as a member of Co. H, 22nd Engineers, receiving an honorable discharge.

Following the wedding the happy young couple departed for Red Oak, Iowa, where the groom is at present located as an architectural engineer.

In England the sender of a telegram can cancel it, if transmission has not begun, by paying a fine of a few cents.

Be Pretty! Turn Gray Hair Dark

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

KEEP THIS PART OF THE STATE FREE OF POTATO WART

The potato already struggles against heavy odds in the form of pests and diseases. Shall another trouble-maker be added to the list or shall the "preventative ounce" be applied? Uncle Sam's Federal Horticultural Board has pronounced the case a serious one caused by the war fungus which was imported some years ago. The little fungus parasite causing this disease, even though ever so small, can and does dictate; potatoes cannot form their normal tubers when interfered with by Chrysophytis endobiotica—the terrible name of the wart producer.

The disease was discovered last September in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, where now the pest seems to be permanently established. It is possible—yes, highly probable—that the wart occurs elsewhere in Pennsylvania.

Evidence shows that wart was unquestionably introduced into this county from abroad during the heavy importations of potatoes which took place during 1912 and previous years. We have learned, for example, that one large firm in New York City imported nearly 1,000,000 bags of European potatoes in the spring of 1911. These were distributed all over the eastern half of the country. All this occurred before the embargo of 1912 became effective. It is impossible to trace every shipment but we know that scarcely a city east of the Mississippi river was overlooked. Thousands of these bags of potatoes were for eating purposes, but what became of every spud and every peeling is unanswerable. We can safely bet that the garbage received the peels and eventually, if they contained the wart fungus, the soil became contaminated. Then, too, some of these potatoes, although purchased for eating purposes, must have gone into the garden as seed. What did you do with yours?

It so happens that farmers did not buy any of this stock, so they are thus far exempted, we believe, but one cannot safely assume that war has not already crept from your garden to the wonderful potato fields nearby.

The disease is easily recognized at digging time, rough, spongy outgrowths occurring, especially at the eyes. These warts are whitish or light brown at first but become dark and decayed with age. The wart outgrowths vary in size, often as large as a black walnut. The potato vines do not show the effect or presence of the disease. Very few if any potatoes are developed by badly diseased plants.

The Federal Board of Horticulture through the Plant Disease Survey at Washington, D. C., are co-operating with the Pennsylvania State College and a number of agencies and individuals throughout the state in a concerted effort to discover whether wart occurs elsewhere than in Luzerne county. Pennsylvania is most important in this work and a highly organized campaign is now under way to determine whether wart exists in other counties of the state. All plant pathologists and botanists are on the watch for this disease. Every agency possible will be enlisted to help fight the potato disease. At digging time gardens in certain regions will be searched for wart, but obviously not all gardens in any one city, much less all cities, can be inspected. Watch your potatoes at digging. Report or send suspicious specimens to the Plant Pathologist, State College, Pennsylvania. Information concerning the disease and bulletins on the subject can be had by addressing the Plant Pathology Department at State College, Pennsylvania.

STEWART'S DRUG STORE
The Big Ten StoreCOLLEGE OF MUSIC
OPEN SEPT. FIRST
WITH NEW FEATURES

The Susquehanna College of Music will open the 1919-20 season under direction of Prof. H. Clark Thayer on September 1st with the same faculty that had such a successful year which closed in June.

Without doubt the Susquehanna College of Music is the leading school of its kind in the central part of the state and the ever growing circle of graduates and students is full attestation of the standing of the school in musical circles.

The faculty, which will be the same as last year, is composed of true artists in every sense of the word. The different branches are ably taken care of each in its own department. Among the branches taught are vocal and instrumental music, elocution, musical theory and history.

This year there is a new feature added to the vocal department in the shape of Phonographic demonstrations of tone work and tone placing. The records are made and approved by the leading teachers of the world and will bring to the vocal students of the Susquehanna College of Music examples of the sort of tone placing and tone making that has placed these artists in the fore front of the musical world.

The various studios are being re-finished and the entire building will present a fine appearance when the opening day is here. There is also a new piano added to the violin studio which will allow the pupil to harmonize the instrument with accompaniments.

The books of the school will open August 25th and it is the advice of the management that students who desire to pick out the time for their lessons should register at once as from inquiries already received there will be a full registration. Adv.

Keep Uric Acid
Out Of JointTells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat
Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double duty; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and "circulating" through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

SUNDAY SCHOOL
LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 24

JESUS ANSWERING THE LAWYER.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:25-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—As we have therefore
opportunity, let us do good unto all men,
especially unto them who are of the household of faith.—Gal. 6:10.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Gal. 6:2, 9,
10; James 2:14-16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Showing kindness to
others.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping the needy.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Our responsibility
for the welfare of others.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The
Christian ideal of brotherhood.

The subject chosen by the lesson committee for today, based upon this text, is "Social Responsibility." When we consider the real meaning of the text it is hard to understand why the committee chose such a subject. However, let us with open minds and hearts study the text, for it is of great importance. Christ's object was to lead the lawyer (theological professor) to understand the need of God.

1. Eternal Life Through Obedience to the Law (vv. 25-28).
The lawyer's question (v. 25). The "lawyer" was one who expounded the Mosaic law. The nearest position corresponding thereto in modern life is the theological professor. His question was not an effort to ascertain the truth, but to entrap Jesus. He not only had a wrong motive, but a defective theology. He thought that eternal life could be secured by doing—obedience. He did not know that "doing" meant keeping the law in its minutest parts, which is an utter impossibility for fallen men; that failure to measure up to the least demand of the law exposed him to the curse of God (Gal. 3:10).

2. The lawyer answering his own question (v. 27). Christ's counter-question sent him to the law, of which he gave a fine summary. Supreme love to God and love to one's neighbor as to ourselves is the whole of man's duty. It is true as Jesus said: "This do and thou shalt live" (v. 28). But no one has ever kept the law. "There is none righteous, no one not" (Rom. 3:10). "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). "By the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight" (Rom. 3:20). "By the law is the knowledge of sin" (Rom. 3:20).

11. Being a Neighbor (vv. 29-37).
1. The lawyer's question (v. 29). He evidently knew the force of Christ's argument, for he sought to justify himself by asking, "Who is my neighbor?" This inquiry betrays his lack of that love which is the fulfillment of the law (Rom. 13:10). Love never inquires as to whom to love, but "Where is some one who needs my love?" Christ convicted him on his own grounds.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 30-37). He answered by a parable in which a certain man fell among thieves on his way to Jericho and was severely wounded. While in this helpless condition a priest passed by, not even coming near; also a Levite, who was interested enough to look on him, but not enough to help him. Finally a Samaritan came where the wounded man was and, moved by compassion for him, bound up his wounds and brought him on his own beast to the inn, where he was cared for at the Samaritan's expense. In reply to Jesus' question the lawyer declared that the Samaritan was neighbor to the unfortunate man; and Jesus commanded him to go and do likewise (v. 37). By this Jesus showed him that the important question is not, "Who is my neighbor?" but "Whose neighbor am I?" Jesus can seek those to whom he could be neighbor. Those who have his Spirit will be trying to be neighbors instead of hunting neighbors.

Those who love God supremely will, as they pass along the highways of life, minister to the broken and wounded souls in the spirit of a neighbor's love, regardless of nationality, religion, character or color. May we hear the voice of Jesus saying, "Go and do thou likewise."

The Erring Soul.

"The little I have seen in the world teaches me to look upon the errors of others in sorrow, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it has passed through, the brief pulsations of joy, the feverish inquietude of hope and fear, the pressure of want, the desertion of friends, I would fain leave the erring soul of my fellow man from whose hand it came.—Longfellow.

Serving God.

To do good and to serve God are materially the same, and the service of God is the imitation of him.—Benjamin Whichcote.

Daily Thought.

There are no crown wearers in heaven who were not cross bearers here below.—Spurgeon.

Work Cheerfully.

Do your work cheerfully, heartily and be ever prepared for the place farther up.—E. H. Naylor.

Certain landholders in Scotland are bound, under monetary penalties, to marry at the King's command.

BILLBOARDS HIT BY DECISION

By Ruling of Supreme Court They
May Be Barred From Residence Districts.

The power granted cities by the United States Supreme court to eliminate billboards altogether in the residential districts is hailed with approbation by the American Civic association in a bulletin which it devotes to the billboard evil. The decision which protects the millions of dollars invested in homes and civic improvements was rendered in the case of the Cusack company against Chicago.

The Civic association, in the strongest language, urges communities to protect themselves from the intrusions of billboards in the residence districts. It calls the billboards "eyesores," which depreciate property values.

Los Angeles already has taken advantage of the power given it by the Supreme court to bar billboards from all parts of the city except business districts. Whether a block is in a business district is determined by the written consent of the owners of 66 per cent of the property in the block and the two adjoining blocks.

So it will take the permission of the owners of two-thirds of the frontage in three blocks to erect billboards along one block.

The billboards may be banished at any time upon the request of the owners of 33 per cent of the frontage.—Kansas City Star.

Appropriate Gardens.

Much that has been said in regard to the house applies equally well to the garden. Let its style be determined by locality. Formal gardens with neat hedges and direct paths are more and more appropriate as we approach the conventionalities of city life. Leave the picturesque gardens to spacious, picturesque surroundings. Winding paths and other features of the natural garden require to be close to nature. An orchard is both more useful and more beautiful in the proximity of the small house that is not far from town. The cost of maintenance is least in the orchard garden with paved paths, flowering shrubs, and borders of perennials.

Improve the Grounds.

Unfortunately, indeed, is the family which has no trees or shrubbery about the house and which has permitted this much of 1919 to go by without planting anything. Piling up of money, land or stock for some one else to use at the expense of some of the comforts and pleasures easily obtained for a home is not only poor judgment, but poor business policy.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!
